Dear Joshua:

At long last I think I am in shape to be able to start handling the cultures. I still don't have an adequate microscope but I think I can get by with the equipment at hand. Hence, if you were to send out the cultures we could see how much difficulty I would have in handling them and making a few preliminary isolations.

Sorry to have been so slow in getting around to it but I guess you know how repair jobs can drag out.

Very truly yours,

M. R. Zelle
